HISTORY OF THE PROPERTY

The Orestone Manor has a rich history that adds to its unique character and charm. Originally built in the early 19th century, this grand manor house was constructed during the Georgian era and is believed to have been used as a private residence for wealthy families seeking a peaceful retreat on the English Riviera. Its name, "Orestone," is derived from the nearby Orestone Rock, a prominent feature on the coastline, which continues to offer breathtaking views from the property. Over the years, the Orestone Manor has evolved and changed ownership, serving various purposes, from private residence to hotel and guest house. In the 20th century, the property began operating as a hotel, opening its doors to visitors who were drawn to the stunning coastal setting and the hotel's renowned hospitality.
