DESCRIPTION

11 Headland Park Road is an attractive, double bay fronted, semi-detached Victorian property which offers expansive and versatile living space over two floors, with planning consent to go up into the attic space. Whilst the property is in need of complete renovation, the building retains all of its original features and boast spacious proportions and high ceilings throughout, with plenty of natural light and wide corridors and landings.

Importantly, the property also has the benefit of a recently granted planning consent for a substantial 'wrap around' kitchen/diner extension with separate garage. This will completely transform the ground floor living space, especially with its easy access to the spacious south facing garden to the rear.

The remodelling of the house will provide a large interconnecting living, dining, kitchen area with sliding double doors/bifold doors out onto the garden with a utility area and further store. The two principal bay fronted rooms will provide a sitting room and lounge (or alternatively study or further double bedroom) with the spacious hall and staircase leading to three principle double bedrooms, a smaller double bedroom and single bedroom/study with family bathroom and separate WC at first floor level.

The attic space would provide a superior master bedroom suite with additional en-suite bathroom and walk in dressing room with two pitched roof dormers and three Velux windows, with a built up external gable end.

The property is vacant and has been completely cleared internally and externally, ready for immediate renovation.
